

SeniorNet, the world's leading nonprofit technology educator of older adults, in partnership with the H.R.C. Foundation and the MAAC Project, a multi-purpose social service agency that promotes self-sufficiency for low and moderate income families and communities of Southern California, opened a new SeniorNet Computer Learning Center on June 17th to bring free computer access and education to low-income seniors in Chula Vista, California. See photos of the event.

The Grand Opening event and Open House took place on June 17, 2008 from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. at the MAAC Project 'Seniors On Broadway' affordable housing community, at 845 Broadway, Chula Vista, CA 91911. All press and members of the community were invited to attend.

The opening of this scholarship-based SeniorNet Learning Center is part of a three-year grant from the H.R.C. Foundation to bridge the 'Digital Divide' by bringing the life-changing benefits of computer access and education to low-income seniors across the nation.

See photos of the event .

Read the news release .