

SeniorNet Learning Centers offer computer classes specifically designed for adults 50 and older. Since 1986 SeniorNet has educated over a million older adults, including underserved seniors, about computers and the Internet to enrich their lives and enable them to share their wisdom.

About SeniorNet Learning Centers... Our Underserved Initiatives... Bring a Learning Center to your community...

Learning Center News & Outreach

SeniorNet Learning Center volunteers teach a wide variety of computer courses to older adults, but they also do much more! Some of our Learning Centers have been recognized for their exceptional outreach programs and awarded accolades and grant funding. Many of our centers also run successful computer user groups and host social events for their members. To read more about the many different activities and achievements of our Learning Centers please click the links below.

Learning Center News

Learning Center Outreach